Older Americans Act and Legal Assistance Developers

Older Americans Act and the LAD Role

Importance of LAD is directly linked to achieving overriding OAA objectives

- OAA is more than just the programs and services it creates. At core, it is an Advocacy Act.
- Title I establishes purpose: to advance objectives that are intended to secure and protect essential rights, benefits and opportunities for older persons.

Quoting From Title I – Declaration of Objectives

Congress hereby finds and declares ...it is the joint and several duty and responsibility of the governments (federal, state, local, tribes) to assist our older people to secure equal opportunity to the full and free enjoyment of the following:

For example --

- adequate income in retirement;
- the best possible physical and mental health without regard to economic status;
- obtaining and maintaining suitable and affordable housing;
- opportunity for employment without discrimination; and
- freedom, independence, and choice in planning and managing their own lives.

LADs Play Key Role in Achieving This Broad OAA Mission

Legal Assistance Developers At a Glance

- Must look to each state's framework for providing/supporting the role
 - Many have part-time developers often with other responsibilities – hopefully complementary/overlapping
 - Most have AAAs, but 9 do not (including NV) – different dynamics
 - Variety of experience: many LADS have long experience, but some are new

- LADs have a variety of training and guidance
- LADs have a variety of legal experience
- Different approaches across the states:
 - Legislative contact – allowed or not
 - Judicial contact – allowed or not

Review of What the OAA Says About LADs

Chapter 4, Title VII calls for states to provide a developer (and other personnel) sufficient to ensure:

- State leadership in securing and maintaining the legal rights of older individuals;
- State capacity for coordinating provision of legal assistance;
- State capacity to provide technical assistance, training and other supportive functions to area agencies on aging, legal assistance providers, ombudsmen and other persons, as appropriate;
- State capacity to promote financial management services to older individuals at risk of conservatorship;

- State capacity to assist older individuals in understanding their rights, exercising choices, benefiting from services and opportunities authorized by law, and maintaining the rights of older individuals at risk of guardianship; and
- State capacity to improve the quality and quantity of legal services provided to older individuals (42 USC § 3058j)

Each of these roles offers important opportunities for leadership.

WEBINAR: Civil Litigation as a Remedy for Financial Exploitation of Vulnerable Older Adults
By Krisna Messore | NCLER Webinar
Wednesday, February 21st, 2018 at 11:00 a.m. PT/2:00 p.m. ET.
The financial exploitation of vulnerable adults is epidemic. While police, prosecutors, and adult protective services offer one course of action, many of these cases end up – or should end up – as civil lawsuits. The procedures for pursuing a civil remedy in these cases often crossover between probate processes and civil actions, and may involve a variety of legal theories. This webinar will cover:

- Jurisdictional issues
- Legal theories and remedies
- Client capacity and vulnerability

This webinar is tailored to experienced civil attorneys serving vulnerable older adults. A recording of a previous webinar detailing the legal basics of financial exploitation is available here.
